WCSD 2018

Washoe County School District

Council of the Great City Schools

COMPONENT 1: TEXT COMPLEXITY

Assessing text complexity in kindergarten and grade one is more a qualitative than quantitative process. The guiding statements provided in this section will examine text complexity in order to differentiate quality and richness among the texts—particularly anchor texts—WCSD is considering for adoption. Anchor texts are materials designed to serve as the central unifying tool for the development of reading comprehension. While evaluations of text complexity formally begin with grade two, student reading materials, texts, and other materials in kindergarten and grade one need to create the conditions for rich and robust discussion and writing for ALL students (struggling readers, students with identified academic disabilities, English Learners, students who are performing at grade level, and advanced students).

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
Literature and Informational Text C1a. The texts present rich and embedded relationships between and among characters, ideas, and concepts that are conveyed through masterful style and structure. (See exemplars in CCSS, Appendix B.)	There is an anchor text for each unit with supporting texts, songs, and poems to connect concepts across content areas and early reading skills. The foundational skills represented in the lessons connect to the anchor text, supporting texts, vocabulary, and teaching supports.	◉ 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
C1b. The materials consistently include short, challenging, and complete texts that contain rich content, ideas, and academic language worthy of close reading. (See exemplars in CCSS, Appendix B.)	There is a variety of texts that represent a range of difficulties. The anchor text is complex and challenging for all students, the books, lessons, and tasks for small groups are more varied based on the student needs. The books are engaging and popular texts that I've seen before in classrooms and libraries. The content is accessible through many cultures and experiences.	◉ 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

C1c. The materials consistently provide opportunities to read both literary and informational texts. For student reading materials in kindergarten and grade one, refer to the Alignment Criteria for Foundational Skills (4a-4d of this document).Read- aloud anchor texts should fall within or above the grades two through three text complexity band.	True, texts are both fiction and non fiction. Some texts connect to science and social studies, some are stories/ narratives for entertainment and enjoyment. The anchor text has lessons for many days of teaching and learning	(●) 4) extensive ( ) 3) sufficient ( ) 2) some ( ) 1) weak

OVERALL RATING: (●) 4) extensive evidence ( ) 3) sufficient evidence ( ) 2) some evidence ( ) 1) weak evidence

SUMMARY STATEMENT (Explain why the materials received this overall rating):
There is a wide variety of materials for all levels and interests in this curriculum set. There are 60 titles available for small group instruction, 6 titles per unit for teaching foundational skills, 12 trade books to use as anchor texts throughout the year, and a text collection to support the anchor texts for each unit.

COMPONENT 2: QUESTIONS AND TASKS

At least 80% of all questions in the submission are high-quality text-dependent and text-specific questions. The overwhelming majority of these questions reference specific text and draw students' attention to the text they are reading. Text-dependent questions that address the kindergarten and grade one standards will be described in greater depth in Alignment Criterion II.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION I: RANGE AND QUALITY OF TEXTS

Materials must reflect a wide range of text types and genres, as required by the standards. In kindergarten and grade one, and across all other grade levels, there should be ample texts on topics that can support sustained study. Knowledge built at one grade level should be expanded in other grade levels. Topics should take into account individual student academic needs and interests in order to foster independent reading. It is also imperative that the included topics and themes are compelling enough to read multiple times and are aligned to district needs. Pay particular attention to the guidance provided in Appendix B of the Common Core State Standards.

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
Literature and Informational Text 1a. The range of materials, both print and digital, allows teachers and students to explore content that coherently and systematically builds knowledge and vocabulary across subjects, themes, and topics. This applies especially to texts read aloud by the teacher, which should promote speaking and listening about topics under study in kindergarten and grade one. (See CCSS Appendix B for examples of grade-level knowledge demands.) Text sets also address a wide variety of student interests, and are likely to foster independent reading.	Vocabulary list with morphological, semantic, and informational links available with each anchor text. Each text is out liked with foundation skills, reading instructional focus, independent reading, writing instructional focus, independent writing, and conventions. Turn and talk assignments along with outlined directions for teachers to promote listening and speaking, students are asked to cite text evidence thus encouraging independent rereading.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
1b. Text sets include a diverse range of high quality, culturally-responsive and appropriate topics and themes. Texts from diverse cultures reflect the same high-quality features that are demanded of all texts.	Yes. Perhaps could be more diverse to reflect a number of cultures. Topics are related to life, families, activities, and learning about the world. Names and settings are varied. Pictures are both photo and illustrations to engage on a variety of levels.	○ 4) extensive ● 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

1c. Materials include a rich and diverse sampling of literary texts, including poems and stories with relevant illustrations.	True. Many text options including, books, poems, songs. Illustrations and photos are engaging and varied.	○ 4) extensive ● 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
1d. The range of informational texts include: • At least two selections on the same topic • Selections with various text features such as headings, tables of contents, glossaries, and illustrations	Anchor texts are related by threads (life for an animal, life in a setting, life cycle, life in our homes), some books with labels and questions within the books, leveled texts are related to topics/ themes.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
1e. Student reading materials contain a range of increasingly challenging selections that allow teachers to build students' ability to comprehend complex text and expand vocabulary throughout the school year.	Agreed. Vocabulary is intentional and books are chosen to develop a bank knowledge surrounding the texts and content.	○ 4) extensive ● 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

OVERALL RATING: ● 4) extensive evidence ○ 3) sufficient evidence ○ 2) some evidence ○ 1) weak evidence

SUMMARY STATEMENT (Explain why the materials received this overall rating):
Lots of diverse material and questions outlined in the teacher's manual to direct students back into the text. The texts are related in theme and content but also diverse in type (fiction, non/fiction, variety of characters, photos, illustrations, people/plants/animals). Texts are offered at a variety of levels and difficulty.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION II. QUESTIONS AND TASKS SUPPORT STUDENT LEARNING

Questions posed to students in the materials under review should support student learning in building reading comprehension, in finding and producing the textual evidence to support responses, and in developing grade-level academic language. Texts for kindergarten and grade one students must include text-dependent questions that require the use of higher order thinking skills. There should be a range of questions that require students to attend to the author's language as his/her vehicle for conveying meaning, as well as to support specific inferences with explicit details from the text. Most questions should require that the student refer to the text in several places in order to devise an answer—rather than asking only literal, "right there" types of questions (CCSS).

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
Literature and Informational Text 2a. Key Ideas and Details. Questions and tasks require students to explicitly attend to the text, including, but not limited to: • Asking and answering questions about key details in the text • Retelling familiar stories, including key details • Identifying and describing characters, settings, and major events in a story • Identifying the main topic of a text • Describing the connection between two individuals, events, or ideas in a text	Questions are outlined for teacher and state what DOK is conveyed by each questions, Each book has a specific instructional focus with questions and activities to address the focus. Each unit focuses on essential understandings and essential questions.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
2b. Craft and Structure. Questions and tasks require students to explicitly attend to the text, including, but not limited to: • Determining the meanings of unknown words and phrases in stories, poems, and informational texts • Recognizing and explaining the differences between common types of text both literary (such as storybooks and poems) and informational • Naming the author and illustrator and describing their roles in telling the story or presenting ideas • Recognizing and using various features in informational texts (such as headings or glossaries) to locate information	Generative vocabulary and by the way words require students to read and reread for meaning and content. Teaching words in clusters related to topic and theme support students understanding and learning. Text talk supports teachers in discussing author and illustrator roles. Non-fiction texts have table of contents, bold, headings, vocabulary words, index, glossary...	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

2c. Integration of Knowledge and Ideas. Questions and tasks require students to explicitly attend to the text, including, but not limited to: • Comparing and contrasting the experiences of characters in stories • Describing the key ideas conveyed in illustrations • Identifying reasons authors give to support points and the similarities between two texts on the same topic	Questions develop understanding of content (what kinds of plants grow in a pond?), vocabulary (Why do you think the plants are named cat tails), and critical thinking (what questions do you have? Why is asking and answering questions about text important?) Essential questions: how do readers asks and answer questions...How do writers convey their preferences through writing...	◉ 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

OVERALL RATING: ◉ 4) extensive evidence ○ 3) sufficient evidence ○ 2) some evidence ○ 1) weak evidence

SUMMARY STATEMENT (Explain why the materials received this overall rating):
Texts are relevant, questions require students to engage with text to answer varied levels of questions. Questions are discussed whole group, small group, independent writing. Reading analysis sections require students to understand the text and the relevance of content to life and other texts.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION III. WRITING TO SOURCES AND RESEARCH

The writing standards for each grade level highlight distinctive expectations about student writing. In kindergarten and grade one, students perform age-appropriate writing tasks and assignments with support and guidance from the teacher. For details on text types and purposes, production and distribution of writing, research to build and present knowledge, and the range of writing in kindergarten and grade one, see the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts and Literacy. The metrics below show key characteristics to look for in your review of materials.

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
3a. Writing assignments are explicitly connected to what students are reading, and materials a reorganized to elicit responses to sources in age-appropriate ways. This might include activities such as dictation or making pictures to express thoughts in addition to writing, with support from the teacher.	Writing lessons accompany each unit. Teachers set the purpose for writing, teach and model using prompts directly related to the texts. Writing lessons encourage students to use details from the texts. Writing assignments encourage students to prep for writing, ask for opinion and reasoning, and s ask questions about the texts.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
3b. Text-dependent questions generally create the foundation for students to address culminating writing tasks, including: • Opinion writing, in which students introduce a topic or name a book, state an opinion, and supply a reason for the opinion (using a combination of drawing, dictating, and writing at the kindergarten level) • Informative/explanatory writing, in which students name a topic and supply facts about the topic (using a combination of drawing, dictating, and writing at the kindergarten level) • Narrative writing, in which students recount two or more appropriately sequenced events, including details about what happened (using a combination of drawing, dictating, and writing at the kindergarten level)	Yes. All present opinion writing: Travel brochure, write a sentence with your opinion of character. Informative: name their own topic, write an answer Narrative: what changes in your own life? Dictate or retell what happens on pg 19 in their own words. Story sequencing Writing workshops focus on 1 type of writing over several days so students have several experiences before moving onto other types of writing.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
3c. Reading materials can serve as models to explore writer's craft and support student production of grade-level opinion, informational, and narrative writing.	Yes...writing assignments encourage students to identify interesting nouns and verbs the author used and use similar words in their writing.	○ 4) extensive ● 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

3d. Materials include explicit support to teachers, either in the teacher's edition or classroom materials, for writing instruction linked to the kindergarten and grade one writing standards, including: • Focusing on a topic, responding to questions from peers, and adding details to strengthen writing as needed • Exploring and starting to use a variety of digital tools to produce and publish writing, including in collaboration with peers	Yes, digital tools included, lesson plans encouraging sharing, publishing. Yes, strategic supports/scaffolded instruction offered in manual to support ELs and those in need of strategic support.	◉ 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
3e. Materials provide opportunities and resources for students to participate in shared research and writing projects, including: • Recalling information from experiences • Gathering information from provided sources	Yes. Many lessons include shared writing. Writing prompts connect children to text and other resources. The writing prompts encourage students to synthesize information from a variety of texts.	○ 4) extensive ◉ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

OVERALL RATING: ◉ 4) extensive evidence ○ 3) sufficient evidence ○ 2) some evidence ○ 1) weak evidence

SUMMARY STATEMENT (Explain why the materials received this overall rating):
Each lesson has a writing prompt directly related to texts. They are varied in purpose and teacher is provided ways to explain and strategies to support student writing and connections across various topics, texts, and lessons.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION IV: FOUNDATIONAL SKILLS

Effective instruction on foundational skills in kindergarten and grade one includes explicit and systematic lessons and diagnostic support in concepts of print, the alphabetic principle, phonics, phonological awareness, vocabulary development and word recognition, syntax, and reading fluency. Students must be able to recognize and pronounce words fluently in order to focus on the major goal of reading, which is comprehension. Building these foundational skills must be contextualized within the materials.

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
4a. Materials provide teachers with guidance and support for explicit and systematic instruction of the kindergarten and grade one Reading Standards for Foundational Skills (CCSS), including concepts of print, phonological awareness, letter recognition, phonics, word recognition, and reading fluency in a research-based and transparent progression. (Refer to CCSS Appendix A for the research detailing the advancement of foundational reading skills.)	Yes...each unit has daily Foundational Skills lesson. The lessons are stored in the back of the teacher manual in 1 section so teachers can review the progression and see how lessons build. Foundational Skills lesson include: phonemic awareness, letter recognition, high-frequency words, phonics, decoding and fluency.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak
4b. Materials include a variety of opportunities that allow for systematic and frequent practice of all foundational skills through such features as engaging texts, games, digital materials, etc.	Yes. Lessons are linked to poems, letter cards, word cards, and texts. Digital materials available too.	● 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ○ 2) some ○ 1) weak

All lessons include attention to foundational skills. They are explicit and systematic and surround concepts of print, alpha knowledge, pics and phonological awareness. Fluency is revisited and practiced.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION V: LANGUAGE

The Common Core State Standards for language focus on ensuring that students gain adequate mastery of a range of language skills and applications. Students are expected to meet each year's grade-specific standards and retain or further develop skills and knowledge (CCSS).

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
Conventions of Standard English 5a. There is evidence that grade-level grammar and conventions are addressed using an integrated and contextualized approach in daily instruction. Materials and tasks in kindergarten and grade one are designed to help build student understanding and use of: • Upper- and lower-case letters • Question words • Recognition and use of end punctuation • Frequently occurring nouns in kindergarten, and common, proper, and possessive nouns by grade one • Frequently occurring verbs in kindergarten, and use of verbs to convey past, present, and future actions in grade one • Complete sentence in kindergarten, and compound declarative, interrogative, imperative, and exclamatory sentences in grade one • Capitalization of the first word in a sentence in kindergarten, and of dates and names of people in grade one • Correct spelling, by sounding out simple words phonetically in kindergarten and applying common spelling patterns to spell words in grade one Grade One • Regular plural nouns, with matching verbs • Personal, possessive, and indefinite pronouns • Conjunctions and determiners, such as articles or demonstratives • Frequently occurring adjectives	Not easily spotted but peppered in through out the lessons.	○ 4) extensive ○ 3) sufficient ● 2) some ○ 1) weak

OVERALL RATING: ○ 4) extensive evidence ● 3) sufficient evidence ○ 2) some evidence ○ 1) weak evidence

SUMMARY STATEMENT (Explain why the materials received this overall rating):
THere is intentional presentation of language skills and applications. There is not overwhelming evidence of this but it is present.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION VI: SPEAKING AND LISTENING

To be CCSS-aligned, speaking and listening must be integrated into lessons, items, and tasks. These must reflect a progression of communication skills required for eventual college- and career-readiness, as outlined in the standards. If kindergarten and grade one students are able to listen to others, discuss what they are learning, and voice their own confusion or misunderstandings, their learning becomes deeper and more meaningful. They are exposed, at this level, to points of view that may differ from their own, and they learn how to agree and disagree, express their own thoughts, and ask questions when they don't understand or need more clarification.

GUIDING STATEMENTS	SPECIFIC EVIDENCE FROM THE TEXT/MATERIALS	EVIDENCE RATING
6a. Comprehension and Collaboration. Materials provide a frame that guides student participation in academic conversations by: • Agreeing on rules for discussion, taking turns speaking • Confirming understanding of texts read aloud • Asking and answering questions to clarify and gather information	The curriculum has instructions for daily routines of pair share, small and whole group conversations. Lots of questions are provided specific to texts and specific to reading and writing in general to support student's conceptual knowledge of reading and writing as well as building a base of knowledge through texts.	(●) 4) extensive ( ) 3) sufficient ( ) 2) some ( ) 1) weak
6b. Presentation of Knowledge and Ideas. Materials include tasks that promote oral responses in a range of collaborative discussions, and support students in: • Describing people, places, things, and events • Using visual displays to add details • Speaking audibly and completing sentences	Each lesson includes conversations related to the text. Turn and talk, cite evidence, reading analysis. Perhaps more to support teacher in listening for content and complete sentences?	( ) 4) extensive (●) 3) sufficient ( ) 2) some ( ) 1) weak

OVERALL RATING: ( ) 4) extensive evidence (●) 3) sufficient evidence ( ) 2) some evidence ( ) 1) weak evidence

SUMMARY STATEMENT (Explain why the materials received this overall rating):
Speaking and listening was intentionally planned for in the curriculum.

ALIGNMENT CRITERION VII: SCAFFOLDING AND SUPPORTS

While scaffolds are not a part of the standards themselves, it is important to support teachers in meeting the needs of the range of students in their classrooms. In order to meet the reading, speaking, and writing needs of all kindergarten and grade one students, the materials must include supports for students to apply concepts of print, phonics, vocabulary development, syntax, and fluency in comprehending texts. Supports and scaffolds should draw students back to the text and provide strategies for vocabulary acquisition. All scaffolding and supports require ongoing formal and informal assessments that provide multiple opportunities for students to demonstrate their proficiency and inform instruction.

Scaffolding is not just intended for struggling students, but also for students who are ready for above grade- level work. As text complexity increases, and tasks get increasingly challenging, the need for appropriate scaffolds for above grade- level access is equally important.
