

What is this survey about?

The reason for the survey is to ask you questions about you and your school. The survey asks questions about how you feel when you are at school, about other students in your school, and about your teachers. This is not a test. There are no wrong answers.

Do I have to take the survey?

This survey is voluntary. You do not have to answer any questions you do not want to answer and you can stop at any time. If you decide to stop, no one will be angry or upset with you. We hope you will do your best to answer as many questions as you can. Please be honest when answering each question.

Who will see my answers?

Researchers from the American Institutes for Research and its research partners will see your responses but your responses will not be connected to you in any way. These researchers will protect your privacy and will not share answers to individual questions or groups of questions that could identify you with your teachers, principals, or other people who work at your school or school district. They will provide information to your teachers and principals about what students in your school think about your school based on your answers to groups of questions.

What are the benefits of being in the research study?

You will help your school understand more about its environment and how students learn.

What are the risks of being in the research study?

There are no risks of being in this study.

What if my parents don't want me to be in this study?

If your parents don't want you to be in this study, they can let your principal know, and the researchers will take you out of the study.

Who should I ask if I have any questions?

If you have questions you can ask your teacher or other people at your school. If you have other questions about this research study you can contact the study's Project Director, Samantha Neiman, at nvschoolclimate@air.org or 866.261.2295, or the American Institutes for Research IRB at 1-800-634-0797 or IRBCHAIR@air.org.
