In-Service Credit for Site-Based Learning Teams

Now that the new school year has begun, your sites are putting together teams to support your students – MTSS, SEL, Leadership, PBIS, plus many more. Or your site may want to engage in a book study as a team. Your participants can earn in-service credit if you have at least 7.5 hours of meeting time outside of contract hours. You must submit an application for these activities so that they can be posted in MyPGS. The in-service credit and professional learning hours will then appear on your MyPGS transcript. The in-service credit can be used for salary advancement, and the professional learning hours can be used for license renewal. Applications are available on our website: <https://www.washoeschools.net/Page/508>.
