Become a Licensed School Counselor

Earn Your Master of Education in School Counseling

Pursue a rewarding and exciting career as a school counselor by earning Grand Canyon University's Master of Education in School Counseling. This master's degree prepares you to seek licensure while gaining knowledge to help students respond to challenges and overcome obstacles. Topics in this program include theories and models of counseling, strategies for fostering personal growth, lifespan and development, counseling for college and career, research methods and more.

At GCU, counseling professionals grow into compassionate servant leaders with strong ethics and morals to positively make a greater difference in communities and the lives of children.

Why Choose GCU?

The curriculum at GCU is:

- Regionally accredited
- Approved by the Arizona State Board of Education and informed by the American School Counseling Association (ASCA) National Model
- Tailored to meet the needs and build upon the strengths of the adult learner
- Facilitated by industry experts who have experience in child and adolescent development, counseling theory, group and individual counseling, college and career counseling, trauma and psychopathology
- Values-based and faith-integrated to reflect a Christian worldview

For more information, contact:

FIND YOUR PURPOSE

For the most up-to-date information about admission requirements, tuition, scholarships and more, visit gcu.edu. Important policy information is available in the University Policy Handbook at https://www.gcu.edu/academics/academic-policies.php For more information about our graduation rates, the median debt of students who complete the program, and other important information, please visit our website at gcu.edu/disclosures. Please note, not all GCU programs are available in all states and in all learning modalities. Program availability is contingent on student enrollment. Grand Canyon University is regionally accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (800-621-7440; http://hlcommission.org/). GCU, while reserving its lawful rights in light of its Christian mission, is committed to maintaining an academic environment that is free from unlawful discrimination. Further detail on GCU's Non-Discrimination policies can be found at gcu.edu/titleIX. The information printed in this material is accurate as of JANUARY 2019.