“And above all, watch with glittering eyes the whole world around you because the greatest secrets are always hidden in the most unlikely places. Those who don't believe in magic will never find it” – Roald Dahl

Being a teacher has always been a dream of mine, but one I didn't initially start out in. I spent 10 years in the United States Army getting to travel around the world, and experience new people and new places. I discovered my passion for education during my time in the service and after 10 amazing years decided to make a career change. I was able to go to school full time for my degree while working for the school district as a Human Resources Technician and after graduating with my Bachelors of Science in Education, was lucky enough to start my career in Kindergarten. This year will be my second year teaching and I'm more excited than ever to be a part of the Wildcat Family!

Kindergarten holds a special place in my heart, as I believe in the magic of childhood and the unlimited possibilities our children are capable of. Kindergarten is a huge year of growth for children as they experience many firsts and encounter so much in their knowledge base. There is no greater gift that I've experienced than being a teacher and seeing the love, passion and determination that our children are capable of.

When I'm not teaching, I am chasing after my spirited daughter, who is also starting Kindergarten this year. I love spending time with my daughter and husband and our two puppy brothers, Marley and Peyton. I have a deep passion for rainbows, llamas and anything covered in glitter. I am so excited to be a part of the Westergard Wildcat Family and can't wait to see what this year brings! Please feel free to contact me with any questions you might have!
